Tuesday was a notable day for Willimantic Rotary Club as William G. Park, of Hartford, a member of the Norwich Rotary Club, and representative of the club at the International Convention of Rotary Clubs at Edinburgh, Scotland, was a guest and gave an interesting report of the activities of the delegates to the convention. Beginning with the gathering at New York, Mr. Park outlined the incidents of the trip, telling of the great time the visiting Rotarians had while guests of the Edinburgh club. Following the meetings trips were taken to various points of interest in Scotland, and in England, while many of the delegates accepted the invitation of the Paris Rotarians to visit France before returning to America. The report was heard with attention and to emphasize the spirit with which it was received by the local club the well known Rotary song, "Prairie Flower," was sung, all variations being included.

The meeting opened at 12:05 o'clock with the singing of America, and one song followed another. George W. Hickey, of the entertainment committee having arranged for a noon hour of fun. At his request Harry W. Standish, in a pleasing bass voice, sang "Asleep in the Deep," and was given a big hand by the Rotarians when he came up from the depths.

Albert W. French, Harry W. Standish, John F. Ahern and John C. Tracy stood while President Frank H. Foss read the Rotary code of ethics and welcomed them into the ranks of rotary. The usual reports were read and accepted. The report of the board of directors suggesting several changes in the by-laws was accepted, and upon its adoption at some later meeting any member who in one-quarter shall be absent from five meetings without good cause will be voted from the club membership and his classification so declared open. It was also decided that any new member who, after being notified of his election, shall fail to be present within the two sessions following his notification, shall be notified that his classification has been declared open.

Frank Brewster, vice president of the Litchfield Springs, N. J. Rotary club, was a guest for the day and spoke briefly, stating that the local club shows the old rotary map and Norwich will have a delegation to meet with the local club. Mr. Park, following his report of the Edinburgh convention, stated that the singing was fine, but believed that the Norwich club had some singers that would match with the local talent. George Hickey recited a poem, "How Do You Buy Your Money?" which met with approval.

A delegation from the local club is to go to New London Thursday to join the New London Rotarians at dinner at the New London hotel. They will leave this city soon after 10 o'clock in the morning as New London men eat according to the daylight saving time. The meeting, which was considered one of the best ever held by the local club, came to a close when the members arose and sang one verse of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Walter S. King, of the school committee, receiving bids for school transportation for the ensuing school year. The routes to be covered are as follows: Route 1, North Windham Road district between North Windham and Natchaug school. Route 2, Back Road district, between home of Everett Chapman to Windham Center. Route 3, Jerusalem district, between town line near Rockville to Windham Center school. The California Exposition Shows with a line of novelties is playing in this city.

Oyer Greenblot, 19, is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, this city, as the result of an accident that happened Monday afternoon in the barn at his home in Andover. The little finger and third finger of his left hand have been cut off and the second finger is nearly cut off as the result of Greenblot's activity with an old-fashioned rotary hand hay machine. The Greenblot boy with several other saw the machine and young Greenblot began turning the crank with his right hand and foot and the machine with his left. His hand came in contact with the blade with the result noted. At the hospital after the hand had been treated it was reported that the badly cut finger may be saved from amputation.

John Kelley, of Fall River, Mass., was before the police court Tuesday morning, charged with intoxication. Kelley, who said he was a weaver by occupation, asked that he be given a chance to get out of town, after pleading guilty to the charge. He had been hanging around Willimantic for several days. Judge Foss fined him $10 and costs, amounting to $11.75. Kelley's entire capital was 32 cents. He went to Brooklyn jail to work out the fine.

Notice has been posted at police headquarters that Section 10 relating to the ordinance on street traffic regulations has been repealed and that the no trucking ordinance on Main street have been abolished. This action followed the repealing of the section at a meeting of the section at a meeting of the common council Monday night, when action was taken on this section, which has resulted in considerable trouble for business men during the past few weeks.

Morris L. Johnson and Miss Mary Connor were united in marriage Monday night at 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's rectory. Miss Mary Sullivan, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid and Peter Gillespie of New York was best man. A reception was held following the wedding at the home of Mrs. Deborah M. Fogarty, sister of the bride. Following their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside in this city.

Mrs. Lloyd Macfarlane and her mother, Mrs. George M. Crane, while riding to New London, where friends from Wrentham Hill, Mansfield, met with an accident, Saturday, at Natick, where they were spending the day. The accident occurred on Logger Hill and both were badly shaken up. Mrs. Crane was bruised about the body and is under the treatment of a doctor at her home.

At the home of Mrs. Owen O'Neill,

Monday, a miscellaneous shower was given Miss Annie Stiles in honor of her approaching marriage with Dr. Fred M. Smith. The hostesses were Mrs. O'Neill, Miss Elizabeth Hartman and Mrs. Lewis F. Church. About thirty-five attended. The gifts were presented Miss Stiles by Master John O'Neill and Firman Church, dressed to represent a bride and groom. A luncheon was served on the veranda of the O'Neill home.

Tuesday morning a Boston bull dog owned by William Jenkins, was struck by an automobile that was passing down Jackson street. The dog was crossing the road when struck. The number of the automobile was not taken as it is claimed that it was traveling at too high speed. A veterinary doctor states that possibly the dog might live. The police were notified.

The traffic officer made his first appearance Monday with the straw cap and blue blouse as part of the official summer uniform of the local police. Willimantic is not as hard on her cops as some cities, and the officers will not be expected to wear coats while on traffic duty.

James Flynn, representing the life saving department of the American Red Cross, gave two demonstrations in life saving Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A. In the afternoon, before a large audience he demonstrated life saving and resuscitation of the drowning. At night a demonstration was given for adults. Tuesday (Wednesday) is the life saving demonstration at the boys' swimming hole in the Natchaug river. The demonstrations were given free and are a part of the educational program of the local Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Wealthy Elizabeth Dunham Tracy died Tuesday morning at her home, No. 15 Mansfield avenue, after an illness of several days. She was born in Marlborough, Conn., but had resided in Willimantic for many years. She is survived by her husband, Harlow M. Tracy, a daughter, Mrs. Frank O. Brown, a son, Louis Tracy of this city, and three granddaughters, Elizabeth M. Clark, Velma and Tracy D. Brown of this city.

Ulrich Clark, colored, of Rockville, will appear in the police court this (Wednesday) morning, charged with defrauding his boarding house keeper of board due. Clark was arrested Tuesday by Chief of Police Killourey at Rockville on a warrant sworn out for his arrest.

Walter S. King, of this city, will be charged with reckless driving. The charge against King resulted from an accident Tuesday morning on Prospect street, when the car King was driving ran over and killed a bulldog owned by John Sullivan. Sullivan, it is alleged, claimed that King deliberately ran over the dog, which was lying in the gutter. King claims that he saw the dog some distance away and as he approached the dog suddenly darted toward the car and the rear wheel ran over the animal, which died soon afterwards. It is alleged that King was traveling at a moderate rate of speed at the time of the accident.

Following a high mass at which they assisted and received holy communion in a body Tuesday morning, 30 choir boys of St. Mary's church were served with a breakfast at their headquarters by members of the adult choir and then left by automobile and truck for LaBonte's farm, Columbia lake, where they are to camp for a week. The youngsters are in charge of Joseph F. Gaudreau, chairman of the junior choir. Five large tents and two pup tents are being used to house the party.

The boys' choir is rated among the parishioners at St. Mary's church as one of the most important organizations of the parish, and no little pride is taken in the French citizens in general have shown their appreciation by giving the choir sums of money and many useful articles for the trip. A list of contributors comprises: Federation of French societies $20, Ladies of St. Cecilia $22, Council, Florissant $24, Garde, St. Charles $25, La Société St. Jean de Baptiste $15, Clement Hurteau $5, Mrs. Philip Dion $5, Transportation was afforded by Jeanne L. Hogue, chairman of the committee. The choir will be accompanied by Mrs. Adelard Marlette and Clement Hurteau, and a first aid kit was presented the choir by Gustave O. Carter. Dinners will be furnished for the campers by Mrs. Hortensia Dion, Mrs. Adele Beaulieu and Mrs. Adelard Monest. All that is needed now to make the week a success is good weather.

The general orders of camp for the week are as follows: First all 8 o'clock, service 8:15, prayer, raising of the colors 8:30 to 7:30, bathing 7:30 to 8:30, reading-games 9:15, singing 10:15, basketball 12, mass call 1-2, reading-games 2-4, motor games 4-6, baseball 5:30, first call to quarters, retreat, colors to be lowered while the national hymn, 6 o'clock, 7-8 amusements, 9 call to quarters, 12:30 prayers, 8:45 tea.

WINDHAM

The weather was ideal for the Congregational Sunday school picnic held at Valde station Thursday with over 100 in attendance. An auto bus made three trips and there were several private cars. The usual lunch was served at noon, with ice cream later. Games, games, bathing and boating were enjoyed.

Mrs. Itha and Miss Florence Itha of Brooklyn, N. Y., are recent arrivals at Miss Neal's.

Mr. and Mrs. George Potter and daughter and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Mathewson and son of Providence, motored to Spencer, Mass., Thursday and spent the day with relatives.

The chapel was filled Friday evening with an audience which was kept in continual laughter over the various stunts which made up the program of the summer Night's Nightmare, given by the young people of the C. E. society. The program included The Story of Poky-bug, Hot on the Trail, Bungle in the Old Maid's Flat, The Goop, help, Movies, The Nightmare, Memories of Old Windham, a poem written by Harriet Guild and sung by Julia Guild and Margery Sherman in costume. The year was supposed to be 1935 and the poem contained amusing local hits, one referring to the proposed new school building, which, according to the rhyme, was to be built in 1917. The actors were good. Polly Bixby's impersonation of a young woman at the movies was one of the best. Those taking part included Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Clifford, Polly Bixby, Harriet and Julia Guild, Margery and Lucy Sherman, Charlotte Lathrop, Marguerite Cook, Kenneth Keener, Kenneth Sanford, Eden Cook, Harold Brewer, Clarence Beckwith, Carl Josephson and Joe Green and solo were sold. The proceeds amounted to over $28, which will be used to purchase new singing books for the Sunday school.

THEY DO IT!

We spent years experimenting with different blends of tobaccos to obtain —a new flavor

—a more pleasing aroma

—and to obtain what is more important still — the one thing that smokers have always wished a cigarette would do —

"SATISFY!"

And Chesterfields do "satisfy."

For in Chesterfields the tobaccos—Turkish, and Burley and other choice home-grown varieties—are blended differently—and better—to give you and all smokers that greater measure of cigarette enjoyment.

They Satisfy
—and the blend can't be copied.

The Lung's Big Job
The average person respiring 18 times a minute breathes a total of 544 cubic inches of air each minute; within an hour, 32,640; in a day, 783,000 and in a year, $50,000,000,000.

The air you breathe in a lifetime would fill a very large gasometer, and weighs about 435 tons, a physician has estimated. The world's respiration in a year would fill a tank a mile square and 1745 miles in height, nearly 530 times as high as Mount Everest.

We are continually being cleaned and purified by the air we breathe. The pure air we take in through the nose is a mixture of nitrogen, oxygen and other gases. It enters our lungs and there purifies the blood, which, after having circulated through the body is passing to the heart. The breath we expell carries away all the impurities.

Our lungs are like elastic bellows. They expand or contract, according to the expansion or contraction of the chest cavity in which they are placed. We inhale and fill our lungs with air. Then a squeeze by our contracting chest—and some of the air is expelled. But when we have exhaled a breath of say 30 cubic inches of air, more than 300 cubic inches of air remain in the lungs. It is this curious fact that the taller you are the greater is your breathing power.
